

TRIBUTE TO MR. WHITE

Recognized Leader of Temperance Forces in Montgomery Endorses Local Candidate.

Hon. John G. Winn, the recognized leader of the temperance forces in this county, at Grassy Lick on Tuesday night in the presence of a large and enthusiastic audience, paid the following well-deserved tribute to the Hon. W. B. White:

"It has been said so many times that it has become trite, but like so many other trite sayings it is none the less true, that a judiciary of high character is the strongest safeguard of our civilization. It is equally true that, in the scheme and order of government which we employ, there is no other official, from the lowest to the highest, whose influence upon the morals and manner of life of the general citizenship is so powerful for good or evil as the Circuit Judge. The regard which a man has had for law and obligation, the attitude which he has occupied toward the duties of citizenship and all the relations that go to make up the lives of our people, the position which he has taken with reference to the rights and duties of men toward each other, in fact the record which a man has made in life up to the time that he seeks election to office makes the standard, establishes the criterion by which he and his fitness should be estimated by all those who take their consciences with them to the polls, and who do their voting with a purpose to promote the best interests of their community.

Bridges White has lived in this community all his life. He was born and bred to be an upright, honorable citizen; the teaching which he received from his parents and the example which they set before him were always in the line of right living, right thinking, fidelity to every duty and the punctual discharge of every obligation. His father, Mr. A. B. White, who died some eight years ago, was a man whom all good people trusted and esteemed, and for whose character no word was ever heard except of commendation and approval.

Bridges White began his business career when a very young man, and has practiced his profession in this community from that time until the present. He has always been an upright citizen and lawyer, and has made for himself the reputation of being one of the ablest lawyers of our city. His practice, as does the practice of all our country town lawyers, has reached out into all the lines of business, and

A CARD

To the Public:

Information has reached me, from a number of parts of the county, that a rumor is being industriously circulated to the effect that I will be Deputy Circuit Court Clerk regardless of the winner in the August primary. Such is not the case and I therefore hope my friends will deny this story whenever heard, as it has no foundation in fact.

If you want to help the family of my father, the late R. J. Hunt, vote and work for John H. Blount.

Very respectfully,

has been very general in its nature; his experience in all these lines has made him conversant with the laws that apply to all the kinds of business that we have in this section, and he is therefore well prepared to sit in judgment upon all the cases and all the kinds of cases that will arise in the courts of this district.

Mr. White is a man of even temper and thorough poise, preserving an unruffled demeanor in circumstances that are well calculated to throw men of less sure balance off their guard. These qualities would enable him to hear patiently, to consider deliberately and to decide impartially. Any judge who has adequate ability in the manner just indicated when he is presiding in his court, is bound to fulfill the hopes of those who have the highest ideals of what courts and judges ought to be, and who help to realize these ideals by their lives and their votes.

When our county presents a man like this for this great and important office, we are at a loss to see why any of our voters will pass him by for a man from another county. If our home men were unfit for the place, we would never prefer him because of his being a fellow citizen, but would give our influence and our vote for the best man. When a home man comes up to the highest standard in all respects, we think our home people should stand by him and make his home majority a thing to which he can look with pride as long as he lives."—Adv.

IT'S DEMOCRACY

That people be allowed to express themselves at the polls and that the majority rule is a Democratic principle pure and simple. That is the platform that McChesney is running on. Let the people say whether or not they want the State dry. Vote for McChesney.—Bourbon News.

BOSWORTH QUITS RACE

Fayette County Man, After Being Visited by Atherton and Brown, Withdraws.

Henry M. Bosworth, Auditor of Public Accounts, and candidate for the Democratic nomination for Governor, has withdrawn from the race. His withdrawal was published following a visit to Lexington of Messrs. Peter Lee Atherton, a wealthy Louisville distiller, and Owsley Brown, legislative agent of the liquor interest at Frankfort, two of A. O. Stanley's most ardent supporters. It is rumored that Mr. Bosworth's brother, C. C. Bosworth, has been promised a good position in the event of Stanley's election.

Many of Bosworth's supporters are very sore at his withdrawal and say that his action has forever eliminated him as a factor in Kentucky politics. While his card of withdrawal did not so state, it is conceded that the Stanley forces are back of same.

Astute political observers say that Bosworth's withdrawal will help McDermott and Stanley in the cities and McChesney in the rural districts, but will have little effect on the final result.

APPOINTED APPRAISER

Henry Botts, Daniel Crawford and Lee Fisher were appointed appraisers of the estate of the late Isaac Botts.

Botts in his will left his real estate, consisting of two houses and lots to his wife for life and at her death to go to the children of his son, Sam Botts. He gave some personal property to his son.

WINS AT WINCHESTER

Last week Mr. J. R. Magowan won two trotting races at Winchester with Mendossa T. and J. Forbes. Royal Armor, owned by A. B. Setters, won the 2:40 pace, time 2:16 1/4.

Notice.

All persons having claims against the estate of the late Isaac Botts, deceased, will present them to me or G. E. Coons, my attorney, for settlement. (5-3t)

MRS. HIBLER DIES AT LEXINGTON

Beloved Woman and Former Educator of Ability Succumbs After a Long Illness.

The sad news of the death of Mrs. Nannie K. Hibler, which occurred in Lexington Tuesday, July 27th, cast a gloom of sorrow over this city. For the past several years she had been in declining health and had been in a Lexington sanitarium undergoing treatment for two months.

Mrs. Hibler was native of Bourbon county and before her marriage taught school in that county. She was the widow of the late W. F. Hibler and is survived by one brother, Mr. C. F. Keesee, of Pee-wee Valley, and one daughter, Mrs. Emilee Hibler Reid. Her only son, Charles, died about two years ago.

For many years she was principle of the public graded school in this city and was considered one of the foremost women educators in Kentucky, and it was through her efforts that the local school has reached its present high state of efficiency.

Mrs. Hibler was a woman of noble Christian character, loved and admired by all who knew her. She bravely bore her sorrows and lived a life not for self, but for the happiness of her loved ones. Her life was one worthy of emulation and will stand out as a guiding star to the dear ones whom she loved and sacrificed for. In the passing of this goodly woman many a heart will be made sad and many an eye will be dimmed but the beautiful thought of the life beyond the grave will serve as a benefactor in the hours of sorrow.

The funeral services were held at the home of Miss Mayme Miller on North Maysville street, this city, Thursday afternoon at 12:30, Rev. Clyde Darsie, of the Christian church, conducting same. The remains were taken to Paris on an afternoon train for burial.

GOES TO WEST VIRGINIA

HEAVY PENALTY INFLICTED

Bush Marcoffsky, a former saloonist of this city was tried in the county court Saturday, charged in three cases, with selling liquor in local option territory and fined $180.00 and costs and 120 days in jail. He at once executed bond and appealed to the Circuit Court. The cases will come up at the September term. On Court day in June the defendant took a number of orders, received the money and then telephoned to Lexington and had the whisky shipped here. The representatives of the Commonwealth contend that the acceptance of the order and money here and the subsequent delivery of the whisky here constituted a sale and therefore a clear violation of the law. It is understood that Marcoffsky will make a test of the matter by taking the case to the Court of Appeals if the Circuit Court decides against him.

SMOTHERS NEGRO

DENIED NEW TRIAL

Judge Benton, in the Clark County Circuit Court Saturday overruled a motion for a new trial for Wallace Smothers, convicted Wednesday of attacking little Georgia Baird, and then passed sentence on the negro, setting the date for his execution as Friday, September 3rd. The negro will be taken to the penitentiary some time this week.

Smothers was brought into court Saturday morning and his attorney, G. F. Wyeoff, filed motion and grounds for a new trial, setting forth the usual grounds for new trials. Judge Benton considered the briefs and overruled the motion. Smothers was then asked if he had any legal reason to give why he should not be sentenced to death. The negro remarked that he did not believe the jury had given him a fair trial and that he believed a jury should have been selected from some other county. Judge Benton explained to the prisoner that the jury had been selected in the usual way, had been questioned by his attorneys and had duly qualified. He stated in conclusion that the negro's reasons were not legal cause why sentence should not be pronounced. He then pronounced the sentence and advised the negro to pray that his soul be spared.

Smothers was convicted Wednesday of an attack on Georgia Baird, the 7-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. K. Baird, of Thomson Station.

ELECTRICAL STORM

This city and county was visited Monday evening with a severe electrical storm followed by a heavy downpour of rain, accompanied by a high wind. During the past week this section has sweltered under the terrific heat and electrical and rain and wind storms have been numerous.
